

The Center for Teaching and Learning
“First Mondays”
2004-2005 Follow-up Orientation Sessions for New Faculty

Fall 2004

Avoiding the Advising Maelstrom:
Understanding the Registrar’s Office and Academic Advising
Monday, September 6, Center for Teaching and Learning, 5-6 pm

Guests:

Carolyn Filippi, University Registrar
Liz Regosin, Director of Academic Advising

Pointing Students in the Right Direction: Academic Resources
Monday, October 4, Munn Writing Center, ODY, 5-6 pm

Guests:

John Meagher, Director of Academic Services for Students with Special Needs
Lorie MacKenzie, Coordinator of Academic Achievement
Ginny Schwartz, Coordinator of Academic Support
Hillory Oakes, Director of the Munn Writing Center

Dealing with Academic Dishonesty
Monday, November 1, Center for Teaching and Learning, 5-6 pm

Guests:

Academic Honor Council members
Bart Harloe, University Librarian
Steve Horwitz, Associate Dean of the First Year

Faculty Roles and Faculty Governance
Monday, December 6, Center for Teaching and Learning, 5-6 pm

Guest:

Grant Cornwell, Vice President of the University and Dean of Academic Affairs

“First Thursdays”
2004-2005 Follow-up Orientation Sessions for New Faculty

Spring 2005

Being a Scholar at a Teaching Institution: Is Balance Possible?

Thursday, February 3, Center for Teaching and Learning, 5-6 pm

Guests:

Donna Alvah, Assistant Professor of History
Margaret Bass, Associate Dean and Associate Professor of English
Alan Searleman, Professor of Psychology

The Professional Standards Committee:
Overview of the Third Year Review and the Tenure Process

Thursday, March 3, Center for Teaching and Learning, 5-6 pm

Guests:

Peter Bailey, PSC Chair
Two Members of the Professional Standards Committee

Lessons Learned: Reflections and Forecasts

Thursday, April 7, Center for Teaching and Learning, 5-6 pm

Guests:

Grant Cornwell, Vice President of the University and Dean of Academic Affairs
Margaret Kent Bass, Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs

Tips on Writing the First Annual Activity Report

Thursday, May 5, Center for Teaching and Learning, 11:45 am -1:00 pm

Guests:

Judith DeGroat, Associate Professor and Chair of History
Pamela Thacher, Assistant Professor of Psychology